

Table of Contents

PART ONE: COLONIAL FOUNDATIONS . . . . .	7
In the beginning: the arrival of the Bible . . . . .	8
Books, words and rituals at Sydney Cove . . . . .	9
The transmission of the Bible . . . . .	15
The Bible in convict culture and society . . . . .	16
The Bible and Indigenous Australia . . . . .	20
The Bible and Aboriginal missions . . . . .	25
Free migrants and colonial enterprise . . . . .	32
The Bible and migration . . . . .	34
Exploring the land . . . . .	36
Cultivation and irrigation . . . . .	39
Mining and its discontents . . . . .	40
PART TWO: SOCIETY AND ITS INSTITUTIONS . . . . .	45
Bible and nation: a snapshot, 1901 . . . . .	46
Forging social institutions . . . . .	50
The first banks and mutuals . . . . .	50
Charities . . . . .	53
Emerging political institutions . . . . .	57
A free press . . . . .	57
Self-government . . . . .	60
A federated nation . . . . .	61
Trades unions and political parties . . . . .	64
PART THREE: DEFINING MODERN AUSTRALIA . . . . .	71
The meanings of ‘Australian’ . . . . .	74
Bushmen and the creed of mateship . . . . .	74
Anzacs and ‘the birth of the nation’ . . . . .	77
The Bible in Australian creative life . . . . .	82
Indigenous art . . . . .	85
Popular Music . . . . .	87
Literature . . . . .	89
The visual arts . . . . .	91
The Bible and the future of Australia . . . . .	93
ENDNOTES . . . . .	96